

In 2020 we received more than typical rain fall throughout the irrigation season, reducing the amount of control hours required by NPPD. The last time we had control hours similar to the 2020 control hours was in 2014. To see the 5 Year Average for each of the control schedules please click on the link above.